ON SOAP,

IN RELATION TO THE COMPLEXION.

FROM AN ARTICLE BY

Dr. ANDREW WILSON, F.R.S.E.,

Lecturer on Health under the "Combe Trust;"
Lecturer on Physiology at the Edinburgh University;
Editor of "Health."

"One important caution should be given, and that is concerning the use of soaps. I would strongly advise all who care for their skin to eschew the use of common soap, which simply roughens and injures the skin, and, if you will be advised by me, I would say never buy those artificially coloured and odoriferous abominations commonly sold under the name of 'Scented' or 'Fancy Soaps' which are the frequent causes of skin eruptions. If I am prepared to recommend any one soap to you, as a satisfactory and scientifically prepared article, I would certainly advise you to buy and use 'Pears' Soap.' Not merely from personal use can I recommend this soap, but I am well content to shelter myself under the names and authority of the late Sir Erasmus Wilson, F.R.S., President of the Royal College of Surgeons; of Doctor Stevenson Macadam, or of Professors Redwood and Attfield, the eminent analytical and chemical lecturers at the Pharmaceutical Society of Great Britain, who testify to its entire purity. Furthermore, I believe it to be very economical, for it contains no free water, and in this respect differs from all other soaps; hence a cake of 'Pears' is really all soap and not soap and water. I know cases of irritable skin which the whole tribe of much-vaunted 'Fancy Soaps' failed to allay, but which disappeared under the use of Pears' Soap, and for the nursery and for the delicate skin of infancy no better or more soothing soap can possibly be used. There can be no doubt that in respect of the care of children, attention to the skin is specially required. If common soaps are irritating to the skin of the adult, (as they unquestionably are), they are doubly and trebly injurious to the delicate skin of the infant and young child. I can vouch that the soap I am recommending is not merely a safe but an advantageous one. It does not irritate the skin; but, while serving as a detergent and cleanser, also acts as an emollient."

FEELING IN ENGLAND.

BURCHELL GOT HIS DESERTS ACCORDING TO ENGLISHMEN.

English Papers Afraid to Express Views Men Like Him—A Firm in the Business Defy a Reporter to Advertise Their Business as Being Illegal.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—The World's London special says: The most popular topic of talk in all England to-night is Burchall's conviction. The news arrived too late to admit of much comment in the evening papers, but all that do comment reflect the general opinion that the verdict is a just one. Burchell had simply sacrificed himself to greed for gain. He squandered his patrimony and came to London where he fell in with a gang of swindlers which for the last ten years has been playing on the gullible British public by sending worthless sons of impoverished families to America under the promise that they could earn fortunes on cattle ranches. These men swarm in London, and in the large provincial towns of England like crows in a cornfield. They are shrewd enough to keep within the law, and the police cannot touch them. English newspapers dare not expose them by name, because this would involve heavy damages for libel. Last spring when I went to see Ford and Rathbone, the young men on whom Burchell operated, the head of their firm said: "I do not care what you publish in America, because it can't hurt us. But if any part of what you say in the World is republished in any English paper we shall sue that paper for libel. Our business is as legal a one as stock gambling. We sell information to Englishmen who do not know so much about America as we do and gamble on their prospects of succeeding when we send them there. If they fail we lose little or nothing; if they succeed we share their success." Of course these sharks could not exist without pals in Canada and the United States, who write letters about bogus farms, receive so-called pupils when they arrive, and divide the profits of the plunder with the London swindlers. Burchell has not been without a few friends during his trial. Some pecuniary aid has been sent him by old college chums who believed in him, and by his own and his wife's relatives in England. Birchall has one brother, a clergyman of a small parish suburb of Liverpool, who is almost heartbroken at the family disgrace. He has also a sister living with friends near Oxford, who has impoverished herself so that her brother might have every chance to clear himself and escape the gallows. Some of the money has come from Mrs. Birchell's relatives. I went to Herne Hill to-night and tried to see Mr. Stevenson, but he was too much crushed by the news of the verdict and his daughter's disgrace to see me. He talks of sailing again in a few days to America and will try to induce his daughter to come home.

Want an Equalization.

TACOMA, Oct. 1.—Port Townsend representatives have appealed to the Puget Sound Steamboat Alliance for an "equalization of rates." Port Townsend is about half way from Seattle to Bellingham. The steamboat pool rate from Seattle to Bellingham Bay points is $2.50, and Port Townsend $2. They claim the rate discriminates against that city in favor of Bellingham Bay points. This was considered at the late meeting of the steamboat association but no action was taken and Port Townsend people are dissatisfied.

The Miner's Lot.

SHOMOKIN, Pa., Oct. 1.—An explosion occurred in the Stirling colliery, owned by the Philadelphia & Reading Coal Company, at noon to-day. Thos. Brennan, John Ogard, Phillip Chull, John Driscoll, Edwin Durgan and three men whose names are unknown were seriously burned; and ten others severely injured by the force of the explosion.

Decision of an Argument.

LOWELL, Mass., Oct. 1.—John D. Nichols murdered his step niece and shot himself dead on Appleton street this morning. Cause, dispute over a will.

A Gathering of the Magnates.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—The first day's session of the British Iron and Steel Institute branch of congress opened this morning in Chickering Hall, the number of foreign delegates predominating, but quite a number of members of the American Institute being present. Sir Thomas Kittson, president of the British Iron and Steel Institute was in the chair and called the meeting to order. Andrew Carnegie delivered an address of welcome, to which Sir John Kittson responded. Gen. Sherman received an ovation as he was being escorted to the platform. Jas. F. Lewis of the excursion committee made a few announcements regarding excursions both local and long distance ones. Mr. Blow, assistant minister of agriculture extended, on behalf of the Dominion Government, an invitation to the institute to visit the principal cities of Canada. Sir Jas. Kittson said it was intended to present a diploma of membership and the gold medal to Hon. H. A. S. Hewitt; but he was not present, owing to ill-health so the presentation would be dispensed with. Hewitt's speech was then given out to those present in printed form.

A Destructive Fire.

ILION, N.Y., Sept. 20.—A fire occurred in the Hotel Daniels this morning. Ten business blocks were burned to the ground and half-a-dozen others more or less damaged by fire and water before the flames were gotten under control. The loss is $43,000, mostly covered by insurance. Following is a list of buildings totally destroyed: Hotel Daniels, Whiley's livery stable, Johnson's news store, Angel's furniture and undertaking establishment, Displon's meat market, Humphreys & Meehan's restaurant, and A. W. Chonby's saloon. The upper portion of Daniel's hotel is badly damaged by fire. The new town hall and fire department building are also badly damaged by fire and water. Ilion News office is badly damaged by water.

To be Electrified.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—Charles McElvaine was to-day again sentenced by Judge Moore, in King's County Court of Sessions, for the murder of C. W. Luce, a Sands street grocer, on Aug. 2, 1890. McElvaine will be taken to Sing Sing, where, according to the sentence, he will be executed by electricity during the week commencing Monday, 17th November.

The Commercial Status.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—Bradstreet's report that the total number of mercantile failures for the United States for 9 months past with comparisons for preceeding years as follows: 1890, number of failures, 7,533; actual assets $44,450,712; liabilities, $92,541,950; per cent. assets to liabilities, 47.8. 1889,—number of failures, 8,334; actual assets, $50,751,994; liabilities, $101,755,518; per cent. assets to liabilities, 50. 1888.—number of failures, 7,330; actual assets, $44,749,552; liabilities, $83,941,991; per cent. assets to liabilities, 53. 1887,—number of failures, 6,958; actual assets, $44,545,000; liabilities, $90,642,000; per cent. assets to liabilities, 49. In Canada the totals for the nine months are: 1890,—number of failures, 1,184; assets, $54,353,780; liabilities, $10,406,501. 1889, failures, 1,179; assets, $4,476,155; liabilities, $9,279,964.

A Refrigerator on Fire.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 1.—At an early hour this morning a fire started in the refrigerating department of Seiler's brewery, at Lowisburg, just back of Covington, Ky. The prompt response and good work of the fire department saved the main portion of the brewery, but as it is, the loss will reach $50,000 fully covered by insurance. The fire is thought to have originated in the engine room from one of the dynamos.

BROTHERLY LOVE.

Mcbigan Church Faction Guards Building With Guns and Bayonets.

ADRIAN, Oct. 1.—The United Brethren church at Ogden had extensively advertised that it would conduct services at Lion church, but on gathering at the sanctuary they found it in possession of the liberals, who had placed a railing on the outside and were allowing no "rads" to come within the picket line. The sheriff and four or five deputies with Prosecutor Morgan were the pickets, and inside the worshipers were provided with guns and bayonets. The great crowd of people, who came from miles around, looked on curiously from a distance expecting to see trouble. The radicals, seeing the officers and guards, withdrew.

IN DARKEST AFRICA.

A Bit of Newspaper Clutched in Skeleton Fingers Terrible Tale.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 1.—During a visit of Major Reginald E. Tracy, of the mounted rifle volunteers of the Cape of Good Hope, to Mrs. H. Byron Porter of Theldon street, this city, there was told a story which reads like fiction. The central feature of the tale is a portion of a Boston newspaper which was found in the fleshless hands of a skeleton in the heart of the wilds of the dark continent. While traveling across the country Major Tracy's party of natives were attacked by a large body of savages and nearly all of his followers slaughtered. He and the other survivors were taken to the enemy's camp and kept without food for six days. The captives one by one were brained, cut up and cooked to satisfy the hunger of their brother captives.

Seeing that the major would rather starve than eat human flesh, the captor provided him with other food which proved not altogether unwholesome. He was taken further into the interior, and brought before the chief, who ordered one of his ears cut off, which was thrown to a dog lying at the chieftain's feet. The animal devoured the piece of flesh with relish.

After a week's confinement the major was appointed a water-carrier, and while making a trip to a stream he came across the skeleton of a human being in a dense wood, clutching a fragment of a Boston paper. Its presence in that region remained a great mystery until the major escaped, when he learned that a party of whites several years before had gone on an exploring expedition and had never returned.

POOR RICHARD'S PENCE.

Trying to Defeat the Great Philanthropist's Dying Wish.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 1.—In the orphan's court a petition has been filed by the heirs of Benjamin Franklin, praying that $100,000 now held by the board of city trusts and known as the Franklin fund, be turned over to them, alleging that the provisions of his will are in violation of the rule of perpetuities and common law. Under the will probated in 1790 Franklin bequeathed in trust to Philadelphia and Boston each £1,000, to be invested in loans at 5 per cent. to "married young artificers," to assist in establishing them in business. He had in view the accumulation of a large fund for the purpose specified at the end of 100 years, the remainder to be reinvested for 100 years. The first period having elapsed, the Philadelphia fund has reached $100,000 and the Boston fund nearly $400,000. The suit is to be decided here before action is taken at Boston. There are about 50 heirs in this vicinity.

THE KREUTZER SONATA A LIE.

A Clergyman of 82 Marries a Woman of 75—A First Love Affair.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Oct. 1.—A sensational marriage took place at the Walnut Presbyterian church, the contracting parties being Rev. J. R. Barnes, of Marietta, O., and Mrs. E. T. Drew, mother of Colonel Cyrus K. Drew, a prominent insurance man of New Orleans. The groom is 82 years old, while Mrs. Drew is 75 and a grandmother. The venerable couple were lovers in their youth, when the groom was a struggling divine in this city, but fate ruled them apart only to join them together in their declining years.

TO RECOMMENCE WORK.

JACK THE RIPPER AT HIS OLD TRICKS AGAIN.

He Notifies the Police that he has Another Victim in View—A Riot in Limerick Over Sports—A Big Meeting of the Irish Irish Party to be Held.

LONDON, Oct. 1.—"Jack the Ripper" has sent a warning to the Whitechapel police that he is about to butcher another woman. The penmanship of the communication is precisely similar to that of the letters which it has been the custom of officials to receive from the murderer just prior to his killing of some poor abandoned wretch.

Cholera in England.

LIVERPOOL, Oct. 1.—The British steamer Picton from Wilmington N. S., Sept. 13, arrived here with engineer suffering from cholera.

Massacre by Papuans.

LONDON, Oct. 1.—Information has been received here of the massacre by natives of Captain Henely, owner of the cutter Isabel of Hartlepool, together with the crew of the vessel, while engaged in fishing for pearls off the coast of New Guinea. After the murder of all on board, the Papuan savages looted and scuttled the cutter.

The Japs Indignant.

YOKOHAMA, Oct. 1.—A public meeting was held here at which prominent Japanese made speeches denouncing the Government for conceding right of trial by judges other than native judges to foreigners in Japan. The speakers were enthusiastically received by the audience, and the ex-consul of Great Britain was threatened with death for having advocated concession of privilege to foreigners. The matter has created intense popular excitement.

Bad Men Rejoice.

BERLIN, Oct. 1.—The quarters of the city wherein workingmen have strongholds, were brilliantly illuminated last night in honor of the return home of lately expatriated Socialists. Telegrams of congratulation were received throughout the night at the headquarters of the Socialists from Italian confreres.

A BIG MEETING.

The Irish Party to Meet on the 16th—Funds Wanted.

LONDON, October 1.—A meeting of members of the Irish party has been fixed for Oct. 16. It will probably be a very important affair, and at it Mr. Parnell is expected to take very decisive action. He will either resign his position or will come out strongly for a plan of campaign. A need of money overshadows all questions, and the American trip is the most important item in the programme. Parnell has ordered all members to cancel their engagements for the 16th. A supreme effort will be made to conciliate the American Irish to unite with the party here.

A report that the Vatican has determined to put pressure on Irish bishops to enforce the papal rescript, receives confirmation from a pastoral issued on Monday by the Bishop of Kildare. Parnellites are anxious to avoid any breach with the church, and it is thought that no further attempt will be made to put the plan of campaign in force. Parnell is very anxious that home rule should be again brought to the front.

LIMERICK LAMBS.

A Lively Finale to Gallic Sports—Skull Cracking, Etc.

LONDON, Oct. 1.—At Limerick on Monday a series of Gallic sports was wound up in a disgraceful riot. There were several games going on in different parts of the city, and under different management which soon developed into rivals, and rioting was the result. At the railway station wich was crowded, the first demonstrations were made, when a mob of boisterous toughs began fighting over claims of respective factions. The tumult was almost unparalled for viciousness. Sticks were used, rocks thrown, windows smashed, carriages wrecked, and a number of persons seriously injured. The station master and other railway employees were dangerously wounded. There were no police present so matters were left entirely in the hands of the combatants, and skulls were cracked with utmost fury. At Lewpallis station bottles were flung at a moving train severely injuring two men. The railway company has announced that it will run no more excursion trains.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

How the Tariff Bill Will Affect the Revenue of the Country.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—The Senate has passed the House bill to promote administration of justice in the army (with a verbal amendment). Resolutions authorizing the irrigation committee to continue its work and continuing the pay of session clerks and clerks to Senators during recess.

The conference report on the tariff bill was taken up, and Mr. Carlisle addressed the Senate. He would not, he said, attempt to discuss the economic theory of the bill. It is now about to pass entirely from the hands of the Senate and beyond its control and discussion of the question could not be undertaken without neglecting the last opportunity to state as concisely as possible what the main provision of the measure was and what would be its probable effect on taxation. It was not his purpose to state the effect of the measure on the public revenue, because it would be impossible to do so with any degree of accuracy, but he could state what its effect on taxation would be. No member of the finance committee had attempted at the tariff debate to express an opinion as to what the effect of the bill would be on the revenues of the Government except the Senator from Iowa (Mr. Allison), who in the course of a speech on the subject had reviewed the subject to some extent, but that was before the conference report was made.

The House to-day passed a joint resolution appropriating $10,000 to enable the Postmaster-General to test the free delivery system in small towns and villages.

FIGURES FOR THE MONTH.

Statistics of Finance, Duties, Death and Crime During September.

The month of September, which ended yesterday, has been a fairly busy one at the Custom House, the receipts exceeding those of September in 1889 by $13,556.03, being for the last month $91,819.47. The different sources from which this sum has been obtained are as follows:

Duties	$81,690 28
Chinese Revenue	9,429 50
Sick Mariners' Fund	289 60
Petroleum Ins	218 60
Animals Ins	97 65
Steamboat Ins	92 64
Copyright Duty	1 12
	$91,819 47

IMPORTS AND EXPORTS.

During the month a large export trade was done, almost double the import business. The amounts are as follows:

Produce of Canada	$ 302,493
Not the produce of Canada	147,592
Total	$449,992

The imports for the month are made up of:

Free Goods	$ 44,382
Dutiable Goods	250,656
Total	$295,038

NANAIMO CUSTOMS.

Following are the returns of the Nanaimo Custom House for the month of September:

Import duty	$4,720 14
Export duty	354 50
S. M. dues	517 52
Chinese revenue	58 00
Petroleum Insp	45 00
Miscellaneous	2 37
Total	$5,699 13

INTERNAL REVENUE.

The receipts of the internal revenue office for September are $7,520.47, classified as follows:

Spirits	$3,206 58
Malt	1,076 19
Tobacco	2,213 70
Cigars	820 80
Coal Oil	212 20
Total	$7,529 47

SHIPPING.

During September there were 120 clearances coastwise at the custom house, with 118 entrances. Of foreign ships and steamers there were 148 entrances inward, and 79 outward clearances. Twelve sealing schooners also entered, and two cleared for the month.

FINANCIAL.

A healthy tone has obtained. There has been but one failure, and the assets in this case are $11,000 against $6000 liabilities.

FIRE RECORDS.

During the month of September there were fourteen fires reported. Of these four were extinguished by citizens without alarming the fire department. Four were attended to by the regular paid men of the brigade, without a general alarm, or were what might be called "still alarm" fires. Six were regular alarms, calling out the whole department. The losses, however, were very slight not reaching $100

POLICE MATTERS.

A light criminal calendar for September is shown. During the month 57 persons were confined in the cells. Of these 39 were drunks, six Chinese gamblers, three for perjury, two for fighting, two for stealing, one for assault, one for indecent exposure, one for frequenting a house of ill-fame, one for vagrancy and one on a charge of unsound mind. None of the cases are of a serious character, and no records of crimes committed and the perpetrators left unpunished or uncaught.

VITAL STATISTICS.

There were 23 interments in Ross Bay cemetery during September. The interred were natives of England, 12; Ireland, 3; German, 1; Continental, 2; Norway, 1; Sweden, 1; Iceland, 1, British Columbia Indians, 2.

SPORTING NOTES.

Brief Resume of Sporting Matters Here and There.

LONDON, Sept. 29.—Slavin and McAuliffe having been informed that the authorities intended to prosecute them for fighting, surrendered to the police this morning, and were arraigned in the Lambeth police court on a charge of committing a breach of the peace. The prisoners were remanded until Friday, each being required to furnish personal security in the sum of £1000 and two bondsmen for £2000 each.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—"Do you recognize Slavin as champion of the world?" asked a reporter of John L. Sullivan to-night.

"By no means," replied the pugilist. "He has only defeated a second class man. Of course I think he is a good man, but it does not take an extra man to beat McAuliffe."

"Will you make a match with Slavin?"

"No sir, once for all, that is out of the question. I have adopted the theatrical profession and left pugilism behind me forever. Nothing would induce me to enter the ring. I have been fighting for the past ten years, and have fought my last battle, and you may also put down that I never have been defeated. When people talk about fighting for the championship of the world with gloves I suddenly become very tired."

Richard Fox said: "There is no doubt that the best man won. Joe was tired out after the first round and had no vim ever after. I am sorry, but Joe has no chance in front of Slavin." He fully agreed with what Madden has said about Sullivan, and eventually wrote as follows: "Gentlemen, If John L. Sullivan will bex Frank Slavin and allow himself to be trained by Billy Madden, and I will back him to win for $25,000, Sullivan to take the winnings if victorious. This offer to remain open for two weeks, and date and money to be deposited with the Sportsman or the Sporting Life." (Signed), Richard K. Fox.

THE MINERS' TRIAL

ON THE CHARGES OF BESETTING AND WATCHING.

A Verdict of Guilty Brought in, With a Recommendation to Mercy—Bound Over to Appear When Called Upon—The Chief Justice's Address.

After the jury had retired at three o'clock on Tuesday afternoon, to consider on a verdict, the court was adjourned for an hour, at a quarter past four the jury returned, and the foreman asked the court if the defendants were found guilty of the charges now preferred, would they be subject to another charge and trial.

The Attorney-General explained that they would not, and the court doubted if they could be so charged.

Mr. Wilson asked how it would be if the defendants were brought in not guilty. Would another charge be preferred.

The Attorney-General said this would be a matter for future consideration.

The jury then withdrew, and at five o'clock again entered court, the foreman saying in answer to the usual question "Guilty, but with your lordship's permission we would like to add a rider that, 'considering all the circumstances attending the miners' demonstration at the crossing, and making allowance for the excitement natural to a large body of men made under such circumstances, while guilty of besetting, the jury are of opinion that they had no serious intention of using any violence to the non-union miners and the jury, therefore respectfully recommend the defendants be leniently dealt with by the court.'"

The Attorney-General assured the court that the prosecution had no desire to be vindictive. All that was wanted was to have the law upheld and the procession stopped.

In addressing the defendant the Chief Justice said that it was evident no other meaning could be placed on the assembling of the strikers at the crossing than an intention to intimidate Hugo and others who were at work. He believed the accused themselves would arrive at the same conclusion were they sitting on a similar case, as the intention was without doubt to compel Hugo to join their ranks and do as they did. He had been at first of the idea that the defendants should plead guilty, and he should then have reserved judgment, and had so expressed himself. The jury had pointed out that there was no intention of the accused to harm Hugo, and he, the Chief Justice, was disposed to agree with this. However, uneducated men, or rather those viciously educated ones, should be taught that people had rights, and those rights must not be interfered with. It was true some of the strikers may have considered the demonstrations fun, but had it not been for Mr. Bryden's action in sending cars, perhaps the accused would have been on trial for murder or some other grave offense, such as injury to life and limb. In the time of Queen Elizabeth the whip and stocks were provided for sturdy vagrants who would not work, but this had all been changed during the past three centuries. The law now said "you can work or not as you please," and there were now no sturdy vagrants, but when men were willing to work it would be intolerable to say that they should not do so. Although the accused might consider it an insult to be called a blackleg, he did not think it was an insult, but rather an honor. It was, 1800 years ago, considered dishonorable to be called a Christian. He believed that anyone called a blackleg was one who claimed liberty of action and asserted his right to work or not as it pleased him. The men who resort to violence and brutality show their weakness when they taunt others. The conduct of the defendants as strikers had been dangerous and calculated to create passion and disorder. They were probably ignorant men who never think, or never read or write, or if they do read only read newspapers, which are edited and written by men more ignorant than themselves, who write what they know ignorant men will buy. The conduct of the accused had been bad in trying to compel non-union men to join them, and it would be impossible to mete out the degree of punishment that would restrain future action of this sort. What would be done would be to discharge the defendants on their own recognizances, to be ready to submit to judgment when called upon. If it is shown in the future that you are not vicious, you may not be called upon at all.

The Attorney-General announced that no prosecution would be instituted in the case of the remaining indictment.

The court then informed the defendants that the statutes must be respected, and they were bound in their own recognizances for $200 each to appear before the court when called upon, and the court adjourned.

THE TIPPERARY PROSECUTIONS.

The Police Use Their Clubs With Vigorous Energy.

LONDON, Sept. 30.—John Morley spoke at St. Helens to-night to a large audience. He gave a graphic account of his experiences during his recent tour of Ireland. He gave instances illustrating the arbitrary and tyrannical methods of the Irish authorities. A week ago John Dillon went to address his constituents in East Mayo. Dillon found the platform of the station surrounded by police and military, and was told that if he used illegal language it would be the magistrate's duty to disperse the meeting. Now this simply means that the magistrate would be the judge as to whether Dillon's language was legal or illegal, and in the second place, what appeared most incredible, it meant that if Dillon used language that the magistrate considered illegal it was the magistrate's duty to disperse the meeting with baton and rifle.

The Tipperary prosecutions had cruelly blighted the hopes of the Unionists and given the lie to their rose-colored pictures. The proceedings of the last fortnight in Tipperary would have the inevitable effect of rallying every Nationalist, lay and clerical, and once more close the ranks of the Nationalists.

He (Morley) had been criticized for going to Island. Balfour would neither go to Ireland himself nor let anyone else. He (Morley) went to Tipperary because he felt that the proceedings there marked the turning point in a great battle, and because he felt that the government was going to drive a nail into its own coffin and he wanted to see the first blow of the hammer.

When he arrived at Tipperary the gathering of the people was few in number, and no obstruction was offered. He never saw such an act of folly as the attitude of the authorities. Col. Cardell stated in the court room that it was one of the most disorderly gatherings he ever witnessed. Three or four English ladies who occupied front seats in the court room laughed at the disorderly of Cardell's statement. It had been asserted that he (Morley) and his colleagues had been followed to the court entrance by an immense multitude. This he absolutely denied. At no time did the armed men defending the court house number less than three to one against the civilians. It was as insignificant and harmless a crowd as he ever saw in his life. The police refused admission to the townsmen, and he saw a solicitor flung violently from the gates and assaulted. O'Brien with Dillon and Harrington protested against the exclusion of the people. The police drew their batons without a word of provocation and the blood began to flow freely. He saw no stones thrown. He would undertake to say that a couple of English constables would have done everything necessary to guard the access to the court-house.

REUNITED IN OLD AGE.

A Divorced Pair, After Being Remarried and Widowed Twice, Marry Again.

NEWPORT, Ark., Sept. 30.—Jackson Thomas married forty years ago a girl about twelve years his junior. After a few years they concluded that they were not interested for each other and were divorced. Both found new and presumably more suitable companions. Death robbed each in a short time of the happiness thus found. Each tried a second matrimonial venture about the same time several years later and the new relations continued until recently, when again by a singular coincidence the visitation of death left each alone in the world. The bereavement of the one was within a few weeks of that of the other.

Uncle Jack, as he is called, is now 81 years old. The lady who was his first wife is 76. Old Cupid's arrows for Cupid surely. But the little archer knew that under the dead ashes of a double bereavement in the old man's heart there was still some glowing inflammable substance and an arrow—a very arrow, so to speak—at the ardent breast works, and the old flame of forty years ago burst forth again. It was carried by Uncle Jack to the woman from whom he separated thirty-five years ago. The flame caught and spread.

Now the fire on the household alter is burning again after a brief courtship.

A Warning.

MR. EDITOR.—It is a well-known fact that the majority of people are inclined to look upon a cold in the head as a matter of little importance—involving at the most only a temporary inconvenience. No more disastrous mistake was ever made. The neglected cold in the head is the source of the catarrhal affections with which about seven-tenths of the people of this country are afflicted, and catarrh itself is too often the preliminary stages to consumption and death. The symptoms of catarrh are manifold, but among them may be mentioned, offensive breath; dull, oppressive headache; offensive droppings from the nostrils into the throat and bronchial tubes; deafness or partial deafness; constant hawking and spitting; weak and watery eyes; a hacking cough and feeling of general debility; ringing in the ears and frequent dizziness. These are but a few of the more general symptoms, and those who experience them should lose no time in applying a remedy. Delays are proverbially dangerous, and in the case of this too prevalent disease may lead to death. We offer Nasal Balm to the public as a positive cure for cold in the head and for catarrh in all its forms and stages. Nasal Balm has been tested in thousands of cases, and the testimonials in our possession prove that it is all we claim for it. It has cured other sufferers, it will cure you. It is easy to use, pleasant and agreeable and does not require a douche, or any torturing instrument to apply it. Give it a trial and be convinced of its great efficacy. Sold by all dealers or sent post free on receipt of price 50c. for small or $1 for large size bottles by addressing Fulford & Co., Brockville, Ont. daw

The baggage car was also damaged, but there is yet no word of fatalities. The affair is of universal interest, because some time ago, at the same place, a bolt was taken from the track, a switch left open, and the signals made to indicate that all was well, but the attempt was discovered in time to prevent accident.

SLAVIN AND McAULIFFE.

The Pugilists Continue to be the Talk of London.

LONDON, Sept. 30.—[New York Herald Cable.]—The big fight of Slavin and McAuliffe continues to be the sensation of London, interest having been kept alive by the police court developments to-day. The papers contain columns descriptive of the contest, even the sedate Times condescending to go in for a pugilistic spread.

The two burly bruisers were again arrested this afternoon and brought to the Lambeth police court. A great and motley crowd was assembled without, who cheered lustily as the men arrived and departed in seperate cabs. Slavin, fastidiously dressed, with a flower in his button-hole, jewelry and a complacent smile, showed no signs of recent affray. McAuliffe's nose was barked and his face bore several scratches.

"Joe complains," said Mr. Richard K. Fox, "of pains through his breast from Slavin's body blows."

A casual observer, however, could detect no sign of serious damage, and the big Californian eyed Slavin as if he would like nothing better than to tackle him again. Such is, indeed, the feeling he expressed to a friend. The testimony against the fighters, given by Christopher Chisholm, was to the effect that the contest had been a brutal exhibition, with little real science involved; that such violent blows were exchanged as might have easily inflicted serious injury. The prisoners were remanded until Friday next upon £3000 bail, each of which was furnished by Messrs. Presse and Fox.

Opinions vary as to the outcome of the affair. Some maintain that the men are sure of a heavy fine, with a chance of short imprisonment, while others think they will be let off free, on the ground that the contest was not illegal.

"How does Joe feel?" Fox was asked to-night.

"Badly; very badly. He's all broken up. I've been with him all the time since the fight, trying to cheer him up."

LONDON, Sept. 29—[Associated Press]—Slavin and McAuliffe, having been informed that the authorities intended to prosecute them for fighting, surrendered to the police this morning. They were arraigned in Lambeth police court on a charge of committing a breach of the peace. The prisoners were remanded until Friday. Each was required to give personal surety in £1,000, and two bondsmen who could each furnish the the sum of £2,000.

The police inspector told the court that though the men wore gloves which appeared to be ordinary boxing gloves, he noticed that the seconds had worked the padding from the backs down to the points of the fingers while pulling them on the principals. The gloves were thus rendered useless as a means of protection against inflicting injury. The contest was not a scientific boxing match, but a fierce fight.

Charming people these exceptional people! Here's a medicine—Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for instance, and it's cured hundreds, thousands that're known, thousands that're unknown, and yet yours is an exceptional case! Do you think that that bit of human nature which you call "I" is different from the other parcels of human nature? "But you don't know my case." Good friend, in ninety-nine out of a hundred cases, the causes are the same—impure blood—and that's why "Golden Medical Discovery" cures ninety-nine out of every hundred. You may be the exception. And you may not. But would you rather be the exception, or would you rather be well? If you're the exception it costs you nothing, you get your money back—but suppose it cures you?

Let the "Golden Medical Discovery" take the risk.

MUNICIPAL.

A BY-LAW.

To enable the Corporation of the City of Victoria to raise the sum of $300,000 for Sewerage Purposes.

A BY-LAW WHEREAS, IT IS EXPEDIENT TO raise the sum of $300,000 for the purpose of constructing a general system of sewerage works for the benefit of the City of Victoria.

And whereas, for the purpose aforesaid it will be necessary to raise by way of loan, upon the credit of said Corporation the sum of $300,000.

And whereas, it will require the sum of $14,650.65 to be raised annually by special rate, for the payment of said debt and interest as hereinafter mentioned.

And whereas, the amount of the whole rateable property of the said Corporation of the City of Victoria, according to the last revised assessment roll, being for the year 1889, was $3,948,903, irrespective of any future increase of the rateable property of the said Corporation of the City of Victoria, and of any income in the nature of tolls, interest or dividends from any stock, shares or interest in the work upon which the money so to be raised or any part thereof, is intended to be invested, and also irrespective of any income from the temporary investment of the sinking fund or any part thereof.

And whereas for the saving of interest and creating an equal yearly sinking fund for paying the principal sum of $14,650.65 and interest as hereinafter mentioned, it will require an equal annual rate of 164-1000 of one per cent. in the dollar.

And whereas it is the intention of the Mayor and Council of the Corporation of the City of Victoria that three persons, to be called Commissioners of Sewerage, shall be appointed to superintend the construction and erection of such sewerage works, and confirm all disbursements and outlays in connection therewith.

Therefore be it enacted by the Mayor and Council of the Corporation of the City of Victoria as follows:

1. It shall be lawful for the Mayor of the said Corporation of the City of Victoria, for the purpose aforesaid, to borrow or raise by way of loan from any person or persons, body or bodies corporate, who may be willing to advance the same upon the credit of the debentures hereinafter mentioned, the said sum of $300,000, and cause the same to be paid to the Treasurer of the said Corporation, and in respect thereof for the said Mayor to issue debentures of the said Corporation to the amount of $300,000, in sums of not less than £200 sterling, or its equivalent, each payable at the end of fifty years from the date on which this by-law takes effect, and to bear interest at the rate of four per cent. per annum, payable half yearly, on the 26th day of May and on the 20th day of November in each and every year during the currency of the said debentures.

2. The said debentures, as to principal and interest, shall be payable at the office of the Bank of British North America in London, England, New York City, New York State, United States of America, or Victoria, Province of British Columbia, Canada.

3. It shall be lawful for the Mayor of the said Corporation of the City of Victoria, and he is hereby authorized and instructed to sign and issue the said debentures hereby authorized to be issued. The Clerk of the said Corporation is hereby authorized and instructed to attach the seal of the said Corporation to the said debentures after such signing by the Mayor.

4. For the purpose of forming a sinking fund for the payment of the said debentures, and the interest at the rate aforesaid to become due thereon, an equal special rate of 164-1000 of one per cent. in the dollar shall, in addition to all other rates, be levied, raised and collected in each year upon all the rateable property in the said Corporation during the continuance of the said debentures, or any of them.

5. This by-law shall, before the final passage thereof, receive the assent of the electors of the said Corporation in the manner provided by the Municipal Act, 1889, and amending Acts.

This by-law shall take effect on the 20th day of November, 1890.

This by-law may be cited as the "Sewerage Loan By-Law, 1890."

Passed the Municipal Council this 6th day of August, A.D. 1890.

Received the assent of the ratepayers the 18th day of September, A.D. 1890.

Reconsidered and finally passed the Council this 30th day of September, A.D. 1890.

A BY-LAW

Authorizing the Sale of Portion of Lot 423, Block 2, Victoria City.

WHEREAS THE PREMISES KNOWN AS the Deluge Fire Engine House and the Tiger Fire Engine House, both situate in the City of Victoria, are in close proximity to each other for the best protection from fire of the said City;

And whereas it has been found expedient to dispose of the premises known as the Deluge Fire Engine House and the Lot of land upon which the same is erected:

And whereas it is the intention of the Corporation of said City to purchase other land and premises at some more advantageous and useful position or positions in said City, and to use the proceeds of the sale of said Deluge Fire Engine House and premises in the purchase of the said other land and premises and the erection and establishment thereon of other fire engine stations.

Therefore, be it enacted by the Mayor and Aldermen of the Corporation of the City of Victoria, as follows:

1. That the Clerk of the Municipal Council of the City of Victoria be, and he is hereby authorized to sell on behalf of the Corporation of the said City of Victoria the buildings and premises known as the Deluge Fire Engine House and the Lot of Land upon which the same is erected, being part of Lot 423, Block 2, of the City of Victoria.

2. That the said clerk do advertise for tenders for the said land and hereditaments, and that the price at which the same are sold shall be first approved by the Municipal Council of the said City.

This By-law may be cited as the Deluge Fire Engine Sale By-Law.

Passed the Municipal Council the 18th day of August, A.D., 1890.

Received the assent of the ratepayers the 18th day of September, A.D. 1890.

Reconsidered and finally passed the Council this 30th day of September, A.D. 1890.

A BY-LAW

To Repeal the "Fire Prevention By-law."

Be it enacted by the Council of the Corporation of the City of Victoria as follows:

SHORT TITLE.

1. This By-law may be cited as the "Fire Prevention By-law."

INTERPRETATION.

2. The interpretation By-law applies to this By-law.

FIRE WARDENS.

3. The Council shall, at its first meeting after each annual election, or as soon thereafter as conveniently may be, and from time to time as a vacancy occurs, appoint one of the Aldermen for each ward to be the Fire Warden for that ward, and every such Fire Warden shall hold office until his successor is appointed.

4. The Mayor and Fire Wardens shall have supervision and control of the officers, members and employees of the Fire Department and shall prescribe the rules for its discipline and management. The Mayor and Fire Wardens shall have control and management of the public property now pertaining to the Fire Department of the said City of Victoria, and shall from time to time in their sound discretion, always subject to the approval of the Council, purchase, add to and acquire when necessary, or sell and dispose of when not required for the use of the Department, engines, hose carriages, hose and such other property as the exigencies of the Department may require. The Mayor and Fire Wardens shall, on the first day of January of each year, or so soon thereafter as practicable, report to the City Council the estimated amount of salaries and other necessary expenditures of the said Fire Department for the ensuing year.

5. No person shall impede in any way or hinder any Fire Warden, Fireman or other person under the direction of the Chief Engineer of the Fire Department or other officer in command at any fire or fires.

OBSTRUCTING APPARATUS.

6. No person or persons shall willfully or carelessly permit any vehicle to obstruct the progress of the apparatus of the Fire Department going to or returning from a fire, alarm or drill.

BREAKING BLOCKADE.

7. No person or persons, save and except the Mayor, Fire Wardens, Police, Firemen and owners, occupiers or employees of buildings endangered by fire, shall be permitted to enter any burning building or within the lines designated by ropes or guards across all or any streets, lanes or alleys, and any person or persons entering within the lines designated by the ropes or guards, or refusing to move when directed to do so by any police officer or officer of the Fire Department shall be liable to a fine or imprisonment, or both, as provided for in this By-law.

DRIVING OVER HOSE.

8. No person or persons shall run over with any vehicle the line or lines of hose in use at any fires, alarms or drills, so as to injure the said hose.

RIGHT OF WAY.

9. All moveable apparatus of the Fire Department shall have the paramount right of way at all times through all streets, lanes and alleys.

FALSE ALARMS.

10. No person or persons shall, without reasonable cause, make or circulate or cause to be made or circulated any false alarm of fire by utery, ringing of bells, or otherwise.

11. No person or persons shall break, remove or injure any of the parts or appurtenances of the fire alarm telegraph without authority from the Chief Engineer of the Fire Department who shall report such action to the Fire Wardens.

12. No person or persons shall make or fit any key to the lock of any signal box of the fire alarm telegraph, have or retain in his or their possession, or under his or their control a key belonging to or fitted to open the lock of any signal box without authority from the Fire Wardens and Chief Engineer of the Fire Department so to do, or pick or force the lock of any such signal box.

13. No person shall put or place, maintain or suffer to be or remain, any article, thing or matter on or upon the sidewalk so as to interfere with the free access or approach to any signal box of the fire alarm telegraph.

14. Any person moving or intending to move any house or building in, on and through any street or streets where it may become necessary to interfere with any fire alarm wire, shall give due notice to the Fire Wardens and Chief Engineer of the Fire Department before commencing to remove said house or building. The person moving said house or building shall give security in coin, not less than twenty-five dollars, and any other security that may be necessary to defray all expenses in taking down, removing, fixing and repairing said fire alarm telegraph or any portion thereof, or any damage thereto in consequence of the moving or removal of the house or building.

FLYING KITES.

15. No person shall raise or fly a kite within the city limits.

FIRE ESCAPES.

16. Every building of three stories or more in height, occupied or used as a hotel, boarding or lodging house, or any factory, mill, manufactory or workshop, shall be provided with good and sufficient means of egress in case of fire. Every building in which operatives are employed above the first floor shall be provided with metal fire escapes, and women and children shall not be employed above the second story of any factory, shop or printing office unless there are two or more means of exit. All fire escapes shall be built and placed in accordance with the instructions of the Chief Engineer of the Fire Department or other officer appointed by the Fire Wardens, shall be kept free from any obstructions and shall extend from the first story to at least four feet above the roof.

17. Every building of four stories or more in height used as a store, warehouse, factory, workshop, hotel or lodging house and all theatres shall have a four inch metallic stand pipe within or near the front wall, extending from four feet above the line of sidewalk to the line of roof, and at each story there shall be proper branches with gate valves, and there shall be a Siamese inlet at the line of sidewalk, all of the proper dimensions to connect with the hose of the Fire Department.

STOVES, FIRE PLACES, ETC.

18. No smokestack or pipe of metal for conveying fire, smoke or hot air, shall be fixed nearer than twelve inches to the face of any timber, and no such smokestack or pipe of metal shall pass through any timber framing or partition of wood or lath and plaster, or through any wooden floor unless it is encircled by a rim of solid stone, brick, or metal not less than three inches wide and equal in thickness to the full finished thickness of the framing through which it passes.

19. No person shall set or place any stove, furnace, range or vessel in which fire may be kept, in such a manner that the back thereof be less than sixteen inches from any woodwork; unless such woodwork is protected by metal, and in that case not less than twelve inches; and all iron stoves, furnaces and vessels in which fire may be kept, not built into a brick chimney, shall stand upon stone, brick, zinc or other incombustible material, which shall project at least one foot from the front or door of the same.

20. Every occupant of any building shall keep all pipeholes in any chimney in such building, while such pipeholes are not in use, closed by a proper stopper of metal or other incombustible material.

21. No occupant of any building shall permit any chimney, stovepipe or flue therein to become unclean or take fire.

ASHES.

22. It shall be unlawful for any person to deposit any ashes, or cause the same to be deposited or placed, or permit the same to be or remain in any wooden vessel or upon the floor of any building, or in any place or premises belonging to or occupied by him, or her, or others, or in any metallic vessel within two (2) inches of any woodwork or structure, or place, or permit any hay, straw or other combustible material uncovered within his courtyard or lot of ground within ten (10) feet of any building.

INFLAMMABLE SUBSTANCES.

23. No person shall keep any larger quantity than eighty gallons of coal oil or other oil of a similar combustible character in wooden casks, or three hundred gallons in tin, iron, stone or earthenware, or twenty gallons of crude oil, burning fluid, naphtha, benzole, benzine, or other similar combustible fluid in any wooden building; and no person shall keep any larger quantity than one hundred and fifty gallons of coal oil, or other oil of a similarly combustible character in wooden casks, or seven hundred and fifty gallons in tin, iron, stone or earthenware, or eighty gallons of crude oil, burning fluid, naphtha, benzole, benzine, or other similarly combustible fluid, in any brick building, unless the same shall be kept in a cellar properly ventilated and without a floor, or with a floor of brick, stone, cement, or other incombustible materials, in which case three hundred gallons of coal oil or other oil of a similarly inflammable character in wooden casks, or one thousand gallons in tin, iron, stone or earthenware, may be so kept; and no person shall permit or suffer any of the fluids mentioned in this section to flow into any municipal drain or sewer.

24. Notwithstanding anything in the last preceding section contained, when fire-proof buildings, so constructed as to insure at all times a thorough ventilation thereof and used exclusively for the purpose of keeping or storing coal oil, burning fluid, crude oil, naphtha, benzole, benzine, or other similarly combustible materials, are isolated or detached at least two hundred feet from all other buildings, then any of the said fluids may be kept and stored therein without limit as to quantity, subject to the provisions hereinafter contained.

25. No person shall take, light or use in any such storage building as is mentioned in the last preceding section, any fire, either for heat, light or other purpose.

26. No person shall at any time keep or store any fluid mentioned in this By-law, in the unlimited quantity therein authorized or mentioned, unless he has obtained from the Inspector of Buildings, within one year then last, a certificate to the effect that the building in which such fluid is stored or kept is in all respects of the character and description mentioned in that section; and for every such certificate the person obtaining the same shall pay to the Inspector of buildings, for the use of the Corporation, a fee of one dollar.

27. No person shall, at one time, convey on any vehicle more than two hundred and fifty gallons of any of the combustible fluids herein mentioned or referred to.

28. No person shall keep in store or for sale or use in any building within the Fire Limits more than the quantity of hay or straw following, namely:

For every livery or hack stable, 15 tons,

For storage or sale, 15 tons.

For private consumption, 2 tons.

29. No person shall, in any building where hay, straw, shavings or other combustible materials may be, smoke or have in his possession any lighted pipe, cigar or cigarette, or carry or keep, or suffer to be carried or kept, any lighted lamp, candle, or taper not being enclosed in a lantern or shade so as to prevent accident from fire therefrom.

SMOKE AND DRY HOUSES.

30. All smoke houses or dry houses shall be built of brick or stone, and the doors and roof of same shall be constructed of some non-combustible material.

SHAVINGS, HAY, STRAW AND LITTER.

31. Each person making, using or having the charge or control of shavings, hay, straw, paper, bags, litter or any other combustible waste or fragments, shall, at the close of each day, cause the same to be securely stored or disposed of so as to be safe from fire.

AISLES OF BUILDINGS.

32. All aisles and passage ways in buildings used for public assemblages shall be kept free from camp stools, chairs, benches, sofas, or other obstructions during any performance, service, exhibition, lecture, concert, ball, or public assemblage whatever.

SMOKESTACKS AND CHIMNEYS.

33. Whenever in the judgment of the Fire Wardens or upon the complaint of a majority of the residents adjacent thereto, any smokestack, chimney, flue or stovepipe endangers the surrounding property by fire, or annoys the residents in the neighborhood with smoke, soot or cinders, the Fire Wardens shall order the same to be abated, altered or improved as they may think most suitable for the protection of the surrounding property and conducive to the comforts of the residents in the vicinity.

UNOCCUPIED BUILDINGS.

34. Whenever any unoccupied building or buildings are not properly secured the Chief Engineer of the Fire Department or other officer in charge of said Fire Department, shall immediately visit the premises and notify the owner, agent, or person having control of same of the condition of the said unoccupied building or buildings, and to have it, or them, within twenty-fours, properly secured, so as to prevent evil disposed persons having access thereto.

PERMIT TO KINDLE FIRES.

35. No person shall kindle or cause to be kindled or used, any fire upon any street or highway, or anywhere in the open air in the City of Victoria, without a permit to do so signed by the Chief Engineer, or other officer in charge of the Fire Department. This section shall not include fire in furnaces necessarily used in laying roofs or pavements, nor the fires used in furnaces of engines necessarily used in blasting or hoisting, nor to fires in the open air upon private property, necessarily used in setting tires upon the wheels of vehicles or in heating tar or pitch.

ENFORCING REGULATIONS.

36. The Chief Engineer of the Fire Department, Assistant Chief Engineer, or any municipal police officer, may enter upon any property which is, or is reasonably supposed to be subject to the regulations of this By-Law, in order to ascertain whether such regulations are obeyed, and no person shall obstruct any such officer in the discharge of his duty.

37. Every person convicted of an infraction of any of the provisions of this By-Law shall forfeit and pay a penalty not exceeding fifty dollars.

REPEAL.

38. The by-law "For the Protection of the City against Fire," No. 1, the by-law, "Defining the Duties of Fire Wardens and regulating the the conduct of the inhabitants at fires," No. 2, "A By-Law for the protection of fire ladders within the City of Victoria," No. 73; the "Fire Alarm By-Law, 1882," No. 87, the "Petroleum By-Law, 1882" No. 92, sections 3, 4, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, and 29 of the "Victoria Building By-Law, 1883," No. 98, and section 6 of the "Fire Limits and Wooden Buildings By-Law, 1885," No. 116, a By-Law for the prevention and suppression of fires, 1887, and so much of every other by-law as is inconsistent with this by-law or makes any provision for any matter herein provided for, are hereby repealed; and this by-law is substituted for them.

Passed the Municipal Council the 3rd day of September, A. D. 1890.

Reconsidered and finally passed the Council this 23rd day of September, A. D. 1890.

VICTORIA, WEDNESDAY, OCT. 1.

ARTESIAN WELLS.

Three years ago the Government went into the artesian well-boring business. The first year they got down something like 150 feet, the second year they made no downward progress at all, this year if connection is made with the antipodes the bottom of the earth will have to fall out. In contradistinction to the enterprise of our Government, we have that of the State of Dakota, which went into the artesian well business at the same time. Artesian wells in Dakota are coming into general use. While we have not yet struck water, are not yet for that matter, 200 feet down, Dakota, which began experimenting in artesian wells three years ago, has solved the problem, and steps are being taken to provide wells for irrigation on a broad and comprehensive basis. Dickey county, Dakota, has ordered a special election for authority to issue bonds in the sum of $5,000 for the purpose of purchasing artesian well outfits. It is estimated that $50,000 will put down from 30 to 35 wells. The water privilege will be rented to individuals at a reasonable price, the money thus derived to be used in sinking other wells. It is expected that at the expiration of ten years the county will be the owner of 500 wells and have bonds and interest all paid. A Dr. MERCHANT of Ellendale, is the moving spirit of the artesian well enterprise. During the present season, using the surplus water from the Ellendale artesian well, he succeeded in raising 400 bushels of potatoes to the acre. The doctor has made a contract to construct an artesian well at Yorktown and furnish water for irrigation purposes to four farmers of that town. He charges them one dollar per acre per annum for ten years, and guarantees them sufficient water for the 800 acres which they have under cultivation. His total revenue will be $8000, besides which he will use the well to irrigate his own farm. The total cost of sinking and piping the well, including the purchase of the drilling outfit, will be $2400. He already has an engine which will furnish the power for drilling. Experts estimate that a good artesian well will irrigate from 1200 to 1500 acres. Dr. MERCHANT will begin operations immediately. Several other enterprises of the same kind are being considered. It is a good investment for capital, and will be the salvation of the farmers of the state.

These figures must be taken with a grain of salt, that is to say, the quantity of water required to irrigate an acre of land in Dakota cannot safely be taken as the standard for British Columbia. The well that would supply water enough to irrigate 1200 acres of land must furnish a tremendous flow, or else the nature of the climate and soil are such that only a nominal quantity of water is needed. Probably all of these conditions are in operation in Dakota. Dakota is dry but not arid, while all of the wells that have been struck thus far are phenomenally prolific of their output. But though it would be rash to base our calculations for British Columbia on the results that have been obtained in Dakota, a well that would irrigate 100 acres on the North and South Thompson rivers would add vastly to the resources of those localities. Land now idle could be made productive. Where now is a desert there would be a garden. Furthermore, we may suppose, that the stock raising interest would be immensely benefitted. Irrigation would give stock raisers cheaper hay, and this, with the larger proportion of them, would make a difference of several thousand dollars yearly.

It is just possible that the geological formation of British Columbia is not adapted for artesian wells. Not that we mean to say that artesian wells cannot be had, but that the benefits would not be commensurate with the expense. If it should be necessary to sink to extraordinary depth to obtain water, and by the processes employed by the ROBSON administration, it would take something like ten years to go down a thousand feet; and the expenditure would run up into the thousands. However, British Columbia wants to know whether artesian water is feasible, and they would obtain this information before the nineteenth century expires. It is not a question of cost with the people of this Province; it is a question of time. The Yankees accuse us of being slow. Mr. BOUCHIER, through the Colonist, reports this to be the Yankee estimate of us. In the light of our experience in well-boring enterprise, we are slow. The Sloth is an active animal compared with Robsonism.

MORMONISM EXTINGUISHED.

Mormonism has at last thrown up the sponge. President WOODRUFF, of the Mormon Church, has issued a manifesto in which he recommends to the "Latter Day Saints that they refrain from contracting any marriages not the law of the land." In respect to Mormonism, the strange feature about it is that it should have maintained itself so long. Contrary to law, and opposed to public sentiment, the natural inference is, that these should have been sufficient to crush it. Mormonism, however, for a period of more than forty years not merely held its own but prospered. But there is another feature of the case more wonderful than that Mormonism threw in defiance of law and of public opinion. Licentiousness is supposed to be the logical ultimate of polygamy. In the case of the Salt Lake Mormons this rule seems to have been reversed. They were a frugal and industrious people. They transformed a desert into a land flowing with milk and honey. Measured by their material prosperity the Mormons afford a conspicuous example of what may be accomplished under conditions popularly supposed to be fatal to energy and thrift. Morals, it would seem, are what we make them. Moral philosophers may set the standard, declare what is moral and what is not, but despite all this each individual creates his own standard according to his own temper and his education. Every phase of society has its standard of morality. Mrs. GRUNDY of the metropolis differs from Miss PRUDE of the rural districts. The decollete in dress is moral in one class of society, in another it is indecent. Religions whose derivations have a common basis differ from each other in what is moral and what is not. An absolute standard of morality seems to be an impossible consummation. Polygamy, however, is indefensible. Though its ultimate may not be licentiousness, it is immoral in that it virtually makes a chattel of woman. She is denied her personality. She becomes a drudge instead of a potential factor of society. If we admit the equality of woman we must give her scope. Modern society trammels her, polygamy fetters her. Justice to woman demanded the extinguishment of polygamy. Polygamy indeed should have been stamped out at its inception. That polygamy should not have been extinguished before A. D. 1890, is tardy justice to woman kind.

"NATIONAL POLICY"

Says the Globe an article making it appear that N. P. has brought into life nearly all the industries we possess is going the round of the Tory press. An examination of the census returns or of any old hand-book about Canada would have sufficed to convince the writer that we had factories, and numbers of them, long before protection was ever thought of by our politicians. Dr. LILLIE of Toronto, in his "Canada, Physical, Economic and Social," published in 1885, tells us that at the first international exhibition at the Crystal Palace in 1851 a Montreal firm took a prize for fire-engines, and a Dundas firm for blankets, whilst several Canadian houses received honorable mention for their exhibits. Amongst the industries which he mentions were soap and candle factories, woollen factories, agricultural implement works, iron foundries, scythe and rake factories, paper mills, boot and shoe factories, pail factories, etc. There was a glass factory at Vaudreuil. The city of Quebec contained seventeen carriage factories. The cotton industry was in existence then in Lower Canada, so that this infant is at least 40 years old. It is probably weaker in the limbs to-day than it was then. REDPATH'S sugar refinery in Montreal, described as "an extensive sugar manufactory," was in full blast when Dr. LILLIE wrote. There were twenty-five ship-building establishments in Quebec City. The vessels built ranged from 500 to 1500 tons and upwards, and a Lloyd's inspector was on the ground. In 1858, 50 vessels, aggregating 49,500 tons were constructed. Their value was estimated at ten pounds currency per ton. In the united provinces in 1852, 53 steam vessels and 252 sailing vessels, in all 305 vessels of 80,000 tons were built. JACQUES & HAY'S furniture factory in Toronto was one of the largest establishments of the kind on the continent. Toronto, Hamilton and Montreal had foundries and factories for building railway locomotives and cars. Mathematical instruments were also manufactured. There were ten axe factories in Upper Canada, numerous carding and fulling mills, together with glue, marble, last and peg, cigar, chair, match, pump, powder, rope, stoneware, starch, threshing mill, tobacco, whip and piaoforte factories. Verily Tory economists are not up in Canadian history.

ENTRE NOUS.

On the 1st of Sept. the Bank of British Columbia had on deposit about $260,000 belonging to the British Columbia Government. This is supposed to be the entire assets (in coin) of the Province, and includes all there is left of the million dollar loan.

The Hon. THEODORE DAVIE, the legal light of the Government, and his aide-de-camp, the President of the Council, the Hon. C. E. POOLEY, fought the case against the miners with more than their wonted persistency. It was a Government prosecution for Government purposes; was instigated and conducted by members of the Government and will have an important bearing, there can scarcely be a doubt, upon the attitude of labor representatives to the Government. Messrs. KEITH and FOSTER, representatives of labor, will not be expected after this to support the men who, to please a capitalist, departed from their line of duty to persecute and punish the men who elected them. The Colonist in its rage, dubbed them "blatherskites" and "liars," and now will rather pride itself upon the success of its envenomed distortions of the truth; but we very much mistake the temper of the representatives for Nanaimo City and Nanaimo District if they will condescend to kiss the hand that smites them.

We would advise Honest JOHN not to stand upon the order of his going, but to go at once." There must be an election in either Cariboo or Westminster before the House meets, that is if Honest JOHN does not stand aside for both places, and as the House will meet in February, and it is advisable to have the election over before winter, it must be evident even to the obfuscated intellect of the Premier that there is no time to lose. Besides, it is not fair to the electors to keep them in a state of uncertainty up to the very last moment; nor yet is it honorable to the aspiring candidates in Cariboo or Westminster. We do not suggest that the retention of the two seats is proof that the Government considers itself in a very ticklish position and fears the loss of the constituency that Honest JOHN must sometime abandon. Some people will put that construction upon the Premier's conduct, but the TIMES knows Honest JOHN better. His sole object in retaining two seats is to ensure to both districts an upright and able representative, and it is to be regretted that the law will not assist him in his object.

It has been stated that the Government will introduce a bill at the next sitting of the House to legalize dual representation, by confirming the election of Mr. ROBSON for both Cariboo and Westminster. We are inclined to disbelieve the statement, but it has been made in Government circles.

There probably never was such a screaming farce, in all the annals of trial by jury, as the manner in which the jury panel on the intimidation case was manipulated. First, the case was set down for trial before a common jury. That was changed, without the knowledge of the defense, to a special jury. Next the special jury panel became exhausted and the court ordered a draft upon the talesmen present. The first selection of the sheriff was unfortunate, for Mr. DAVIE ordered the gentleman named to stand aside. Then they were in a muddle in earnest, for the defense held that the Crown's right to challenge ceased with the exhaustion of the panel. At this stage the Chief Justice, the learned Attorney-General and the counsel for the prisoners retired to a secret chamber to consult upon the situation, and if possible to patch the matter up. Afterwards the jury was completed by additions from the petit jury list, and the extraordinary trial commenced. A lawyer of standing informed us that the method taken to procure a jury was the grossest travesty that was ever witnessed in a Canadian court of justice. It out-Davied DAVIE, violated every principle of the sacred right of trial by jury, insulted the very name of justice, and established a precedent which, if not set aside on appeal, will forever degrade the system of jury trial in Victoria. A few more such exhibitions in our high courts of justice, and the public contempt for the law's administration will become as broad and as deep as it now is for some of those whom accident has placed in high places, where they "play such fantastic tricks before high heaven" that actually the very horses laugh.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Tacoma News naively asks if "In case of a war with Canada we would like to know, you know, if the United States could utilize the timber cruisers of this section for the invasion of Victoria?"

The News evidently does not know, or has forgotten, that we have the Sir James Douglas.

MISS ALLI TYOG, a Finland girl, who was one of the delegates sent to the Woman's International Council a couple of years ago by the Finnish Woman's Union, caught the American fever of enterprise and has treated her countrymen to a round of surprises. She first began a series of lectures; told her audiences of the social wonders of the New World, and with the profits opened a workingman's kitchen, providing three hundred dinners at five cents each. Her next venture was to start a Sweedish monthly, devoted to the woman's right movement. That accomplished, she opened a little brewery shop for the manufacture of ale, in the hope of reducing drunkenness, her drink containing ten per cent. less alcohol than the popular beverage. Now this remarkable young woman is going to build a people's palace, to contain a library, art gallery, day nursery, school for poor children, and reading-room, and has already petitioned the authorities for a site.

Many foreign military writers have freely expressed the opinion that the improved equipments of all the standing armies of Europe have made it next to impossible for a numerically small army to make any resistance for any length of time. This was not very consoling for British military leaders, who might possibly be called upon to take the field with an army corps of red coats. It will be gratifying to them and to the nation at large to find that so able and scientific an authority on modern weapons and their forces as Sir FREDERICK ABEL takes a totally different view of the whole matter. He maintains that the battles of the future will be fought out pretty much as in the past, and will depend partly upon accident, partly upon the military genius of individuals and "very much upon the characteristics of the men who fight the battles." The last element, VON MOLTKE has often remarked, is of the greatest importance in winning campaigns. In that case England and the Empire have nothing to fear.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

One of the worst effects of the McKINLEY bill, so far as Canadian farmers are concerned, will be to throw the whole control of the wheat buying business into the hands of the Millers' Combine, which was formed about two months ago. The high duty upon wheat imported into the United States will prevent American wheat buyers from taking supplies from our farmers, so that the combines who purchase for their mills will control the market, and will be in a position to pay as little as they please for wheat—while charging their own prices for flour. We may soon expect to see the Ogilvies following the examples of REDPATH the sugar man, and buying castles and estates in England to which they may retire and live upon the tribute which the trade restriction system permits them to wring from the Canadian toilers.

Expert testimony by specialists who are retained by one side or the other in a legal controversy has often been shown up in all its venial worthlessness. No more complete expose, however, could be imagined than that which occurred during the COLLIER case in Chicago. COLLIER, a lawyer, is on trial as to his sanity, and is conducting his own defence with an acuteness and brilliancy that might make many wish that they were afflicted with the same sort of insanity. The principal witness against him was Dr. KIERNAN, a famous expert, whose name was a familiar one during the progress of the GUITEAU trial. COLLIER asked this authority whether he had ever said that one out of every twenty-five people who walked the street was insane. The doctor disclaimed ever having made the statement. Thereupon COLLIER produced the record of the GUITEAU case and read the testimony of Dr. KIERNAN, wherein he had asserted that five persons out of every twenty-five were insane. This was only one of the many points which COLLIER scored over his expert antagonist. No wonder the court found it almost impossible to suppress the frequent bursts of applause that greeted COLLIER'S masterly defence. But it would be a good thing if it directed public attention to the evils of expert testimony. A lawyer is paid by defendant or plaintiff, and that fact is patent and discounts the value of his argument. But an expert is called in to aid the jury in the interests of not of a client, but of justice and right. To turn him into a paid advocate is to destroy the value of his testimony. Experts should be paid by the State and not by the parties to a suit, if they are to remain disinterested witnesses. It is only as disinterested witnesses that they can be of any service. Dr. GRIFFIN was sentenced to five years largely through "expert" evidence.

THE GOVERNMENT'S "LAST LAND POLICY."

TO THE EDITOR KOOTENAY STAR:—In your issue of 23rd ult., you say: "The reversal of the land policy of the Government, by which the vacant lands are to be held for pre-emption and homesteading and withdrawn from the grasp of speculators and monopolists, is another of those measures inaugurated by the Premier in behalf of the people."

Since when did the above come into effect? A notice was issued by the Government to the effect that all public lands were closed to purchasers pending future legislation. Why jump to the conclusion this was issued in the interests of intending pre-emptors, homesteaders, and in behalf of the people?

Throughout East Kootenay the very opposite obtains, as I shall endeavor to show you. In the early part of summer some gentlemen came into our valley with the intention of pre-empting and purchasing sufficient land on which to run a couple of thousand sheep. The land act prevented them pre-empting more than 320 acres each, and the last "measure inaugurated by the Premier in behalf of the people," prevented them purchasing the balance required. This much to the detriment of the settler.

Prior to the appearance of the government notice (or what you may choose to call it) Col. Baker, an out-and-out speculator, secured by purchase in the vicinity of Fort Steele, about 20,000 acres—and for speculative purposes—as can be proved. Shortly after the appearance of this inaugurated boon to the pre-emptor, homesteader, and the people, Mr. Fletcher an employee of the C. P. R., spent about three weeks in the valley between Golden and Elk River, selecting lands to complete the subsidy granted by Mr. Robson's government to the C. P. R., for constructing the "Nelson & Sproat" railway. Close in the footsteps of the C. P. R., representative followed the agent of the "Kootenay Valleys Co," Mr. W. A. Baillie-Grohman, and needless to say, he took a good big slice of what land was left, "just to keep his hand in."

How the pre-emptor, homesteader and the people are benefitted by withdrawing the public lands from sale and leaving them open to the C. P. R., and the Kootenay Valleys Co., to gobble, passeth my poor understanding. As to the lands secured by Col. Baker prior to the issue of notice something very similar to this occurred before.

To sum up:—The intending settler who tried to purchase land for legitimate purposes, was prevented doing so by the means inaugurated by the Premier. The C.P.R., for constructing a road absolutely without value to our valley, gets first choice of the vacant lands, and the second goes to the K.V. C. to complete a subsidy granted them for constructing a canal the Government has admitted to be utterly useless; and this, notwithstanding the fact that the time for selecting and surveying these lands came to an end about last November.

East Kootenay may be an exception, but if what is termed the land policy of the Government has been pursued, as here, in other parts of the Province during the last two or three years, it does not surprise me to learn "a large area of good farming lands await settlement."

Let an ever-so-much intending settler come to the southeastern portion of Kootenay, and the chances are ten to one he will, pull out disgusted, for what will he find? Nearly all the bottom lands owned by an English company, a large area staked by the C. P. R., some thirty thousand acres "set aside for a government park, (I would substitute soap for park); a number of Indian reserves; from twenty to thirty thousand acres in the hands of Col. Baker & Co.; the whole of Elk river valley reserved in the interests of Col. Baker's Coal Co.—and to wind up with, "The Land Act," the higgle-de-piggle-de, incomprehensible amplification, called (through courtesy, I take it) "The Land Act." F. W. AYLMER.

In the city police court this morning there were only two cases outside the Johnson street ravine case. T. Harper charged with using insulting language to Jno. Cameron did not appear and the prosecution withdrew the charge. A Chinese lottery case was also up and remanded until to-morrow.

The shipments of canned salmon during the past fortnight have been very large over the Canadian Pacific railway. During that time no less than 40 car loads have left Westminster with an average of about 400 cases to each car. This is somewhere in the neighborhood of 16,000 cases, which are valued at about $80,000.

AN EDITOR'S MEMORY.

How Mr. McCullagh Identified a Man He Had Seen But Once.

The fortunes of war are strange. One day in the Southern Hotel at St. Louis, a few months ago, J. B. McCullagh, the editor of the Globe-Democrat, was sitting reading a newspaper when a gentleman walked up and, extending his hand, said:

"How do you do, Mr. McCullagh?"

The editor put out his hand and said: "How do you do, sir?"

"You don't seem to know me," the stranger remarked.

"Oh, yes, I do," said Mr. McCullagh.

"Well, who am I?" inquired the stranger.

"I'll answer you in this way," said Mr. McCullagh. "The last time I saw you was in 1863, in the pilot-house of the gun-boat (naming it) in the river before Fort Donelson. There were three of us in the pilot-house—you, myself and the pilot—when a shell struck us, carrying away the pilot house, and killing one man and wounding another. I was unhurt. Now, if it was Morrison who was killed by that shell, your name is Reilly; and if it was Reilly who was killed, you are Morrison. I remember your voice perfectly, but I can not recall your name."

Mr. McCullagh was right. The man who stood before him was Reilly, the pilot, who was not killed.

THE HATCHING CHEST.

An Old German Custom Breaking Out in America.

Apropos of the old German legend of the "Storks and the Babies," many have a quaint old custom in the Fatherland, when the fairy stork happens to fly down the chimney with a girl baby, of giving her upon her first birthday a hatching chest, as handsomely carved and ornamented as circumstances will permit. This custom has been introduced and is rapidly acquiring popularity in America, and nothing affords so much pleasure to the girl, maid or matron as the contents of her hatching chest, for into it goes, first of all, a beautiful spoon given her each year by the person whose name she bears. When the little maiden is twelve years old a dozen handsome spoons, each differing from the other in design, is ready for the day of her wedding. Then the gift changes to tablespoons, and as the years go on the full complement gradually accumulates. At the same time some adoring aunt, skilled in the womanly art of needlework, adds bit by bit exquisite sets of napery and bed-linen. Others bestow with the childish toys and girlish trinkets each year some choice piece of silver or rare dish of china, until by and by the hatching-chest contains a wedding outfit of unique and costly things, which, accumulating slowly, are more valuable than one can afford to purchase in quantity.

But perhaps she will never marry, you say. Granted; but just think what a perfectly delicious thing to go and cry over once in awhile, and to present treasures from to her less unfortunate or fortunate sisters, as the case may be. Besides, as a nice little tot said recently, struggling with the old saw until she fancied she had it exact: "It's a great deal better to be ready and be married than not to be ready and not be married. Isn't it, mamma?" And mamma said yes, just as every sweet woman would if she really told the truth.

SALE OF WORK.

The Ladies of the First Presbyterian Church Make It a Success.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon the ladies of the First Presbyterian church threw open the doors of their Sunday School to a large number of ladies who were anxious to avail themselves of the bargains offered there. The room was nicely decorated but that did not take the eye of the visitor as much as the piles of plain and fancy goods offered for sale. Two tables were piled up with goods of a useful character such as children's gingham aprons and other articles of a substantial nature. These tables were presided over by Mesdames Mayne, Wilson, Riddle and Sears. The table at which an assortment of fancy goods were shown that could not be bought for double the price or perhaps could not be obtained for any price. The work offered on this table showed that the ladies must have been at work for some time, for handsomer articles would be hard to find and the First Presbyterian church has evidently among its congregation ladies who understand the not at all simple art of fancy working. Mrs. Wm. Templeman and Miss Bennett attended to the crowd of purchasers that flowed to and from the stand all afternoon.

There was the flower stand containing potted plants of all varieties and bouquets for the gentlemen who admired while their lady companions examined and purchased. The stand was presided over by Miss Becker and Miss Alice Mansie.

The candy stand, of course, was well patronized especially by the younger element present whose wants were ably attended to by Misses Laura Munsie, Lizzie Gill, Fraser and M. Wilson.

From 5:30 until 7:30 this evening supper will be served and no doubt a large number will be present to partake of the eatables to be prepared by Mesdames Becker, J. C. Flett, Gill, McKillican and Miss Bennett.

The sale will remain open until 11 o'clock to-night and the ladies expect to do still better during the evening than what they did in the afternoon and no doubt their hopes will be realized, for if the ladies only knew they could not help but attend, rain or no rain. All the ladies of the church have taken an active part in arrangements and also in preparing work and they are to be complimented on the success of their efforts. Mrs. D. Fraser was of course there, and acted as general superintendent.

Accepted the Call.

Rev. Townsend, who for the last month has occupied the pulpit of the Spring Ridge Baptist church temporarily, has received and accepted a call from the church to take permanent charge. Rev. Townsend is an eloquent speaker and the congregation of the church have made a good choice. He was a student with the famous C. H. Spurgeon, from whose college he graduated. Before coming here he held a pulpit in London, England.

Wool Gathering.

It is surprising how large an edifice can be built upon a small foundation if the superstructure is not made too substantial. The Telegram is in a "position to state" that the report of the officers of the Esquimalt on the Comox coal is entirely satisfactory, and from this basis argues that Vancouver may be made a naval coaling station which means increased dockage, harbor improvements and the probable removal of the navy yard from Esquimalt to Vancouver. Can more be expected?

Can't Leave It Alone.

Yesterday at noon the notorious "Dan Apples" was discharged from jail, his sentence of 20 days having been completed. During that period Dan has been hard at work white-washing the barrack fences and buildings which very likely gave him a longing for Irish whiskey to saturate his parched throat. Dan, however, could not get it until yesterday, but when he did get it he made a sort of making up for 20 days of temperance and got rolling drunk again last night.

A Roundabout Way.

When the P.M.S.S. Rio de Janeiro arrived here some days ago from the Orient two Chinamen consigned to this port were a little late in getting ashore, after $40 each had been paid to the custom house for their permits to land, and so they were taken to San Francisco. At the latter port they were again made to put up $100 each as a guarantee that they would take the next steamer for this city. They arrived here on the City of Puebla Monday evening, wondering, no doubt, if they had yet finished with the custom officers.

The Bread-Winner.

The prize for the best bread-baking on the grounds at the Westminster show, was won by Mrs. W. E. Dickinson. A mixing of the tickets gave the prize to Mrs. Goudy, of Ladner's Landing and the mistake came very near resulting seriously to Secretary Pearson. By the way, it would do Secretary Pearson no great harm if he were taken in hand for about five minutes by two angry ladies. Although probably not to blame in this instance he stands greatly in need of an awakening about exhibition time.

Johnson Street Ravine.

The principal cases in the police court this morning were those in which several residents of Johnson street were charged with allowing drains to empty into Johnson street ravine instead of making use of the new sewer. Some of the defendants paid costs and promised to connect with the sewer immediately, while those who had excuses were remanded until Monday at the request of Mr. Eberts of Eberts & Taylor, on behalf of the city. His honor informed the defendants that the city had made a big outlay for a sewer, and they must either use it or not have any garbage around their premises. Another thing, Mr. DeCosmos was getting an injunction out to stop the city from letting the ravine run through the property.

The city evidently intends to have the nuisance abated for Supt. Shepard will issue forty more summonses before the week is out.

The Black Flag To-Night.

The opportunity afforded for seeing good plays at reduced prices is being taken advantage of, as was evidenced last night by the large and appreciative audience which greeted the Russell Dower Company in "The White Slave." Miss Jennie Darragh, an emotional actress of considerable power, appeared as Lisa the White Slave. Mr. George Caine, as Bill Lacy, the brutal planter who "never deals in anything but niggers," was especially good. All the parts were carefully interpreted, and deserve special mention did space permit. To-night "The Black Flag," a powerful English drama will occupy the boards. The stay of the company has been extended, as was announced yesterday, the last performance taking

CITY AND PROVINCIAL.

SCHOOL TRUSTEE BOARD.

Special Meeting to Consider the Question of Supplying Fuel to Schools.

A special meeting of the board of school trustees was held last evening at which the full board was present, to consider applications from several of the school teachers for fuel for the heating apparatus of the schools, as the cold [illegible] communication be received and filed, and the writers informed that there was no funds on hand for the purpose, and the board had no guarantee the bills would be paid, was seconded by Trustee Mallette.

Trustee Mallandaine stated that the board had no reason to suppose that such bills will not be paid.

Trustee Mallette said that if the Government have a right to refuse to pay one bill they may refuse all, and he would like to see it settled one way or the other right now.

Motion carried without dissent.

Trustee Walker would like to know how the coal is to be supplied. Everyone knows that coal must be provided.

Trustee Mallette thought that the best thing to be done was to let the Government buy the coal and run the whole show. The trustees seem to have no power to do anything except to appoint and dismiss teachers.

Moved by Trustee Mallette and seconded by Trustee Hall, That in consequence of having no funds on hand, and in order to avoid responsibility of incurring liabilities that may or may not be paid, as may meet the pleasure of the Government, be it resolved that the secretary be directed to officially notify all the janitors that their engagement with the trustees will terminate on the 31st of October next.

Trustee Walker thought this right, as it is a question of principle, and they should take a stand now. If every thing of a financial nature is to be under the censorship of the Government, it may as well be settled now. He read an extract from the School Act, showing that some moneys should be in the hands of the trustees, and they should have the handling of all school moneys.

Trustee Mallandaine was of the opinion the superintendent of education should be notified that the board refuse to incur any more liability. The most dignified way of procedure would be for the board to resign.

After considerable discussion it was decided not to write to Mr. Pope again, as it was a principle they were contending for.

Trustee Walker thought it a farce for the board to mark bills and send vouchers as correct, and then have them reviewed by the auditor at James Bay and payment refused.

Mr. Mallette's motion was withdrawn by consent.

As Friday was proclaimed a public holiday by the Mayor, the secretary wrote to Mr. Pope for permission to close the schools, and was instructed to inform the principals of the fact.

A NEW ENTERPRISE.

Brackman & Ker Erecting a new Mill at the Outer Wharf.

An enterprise of very great importance to this city has been inaugurated by Brackman & Ker, the enterprising flour and feed merchants of Government street, and is being quietly prosecuted. Over a year ago this firm saw that it would be necessary for them to provide better milling facilities than they possessed in Saanich, as the requirements of their trade had outgrown the capacity of the mill there and even of the district to produce all that could be handled to advantage at their warerooms in Victoria. New mills and a new site were required, and after a careful investigation of the various points suggested, it was decided to locate at the outer wharf. A piece of ground, 80x250 feet, facing the inner harbor, was purchased from R. P. Rithet & Co., and upon this a splendid mill will be erected. The new building will be about 70x80 feet and four stories high, in addition to a basement of stone. The mill will be placed on the water front, and nearly all the land will be reserved for warehouses. The work of blasting has been going on for some days. The plans for the new mill will be prepared and tenders called for at once. An enquirer, who is thoroughly conversant with the requirements of the milling business, and who has visited many countries on similar missions, is en route to Victoria from Chicago, to superintend the preliminary work and to prepare the plans for the buildings. He will arrive on Monday next.

The mill will be fitted up for the manufacture of oatmeal, rolled oats, pearl barley, split peas, cornmeal, etc. Wheat flour will not be made.

The building will be of a most substantial character, and will have ample capacity to turn out all that the trade requires. The machinery will be of the very latest description and have all modern improvements. The motive power will be steam.

The selection of a site at the outer wharf was made largely because of its splendid shipping facilities. Grain from Saanich, Cowichan, Comox, or the Fraser can be carried there easily and cheaply, while the manufactured articles can be reshipped and distributed all over the Province, and up the coast with greater facility than from any other locality that could have been chosen.

A tramway will be built from the present outer wharf to the mill, to handle the freight from the mainland, from which point most of the grain now bought by the firm comes.

The milling business now carried on at Saanich will be transferred to Victoria. The mercantile business there, however, will not be affected by the change.

The enterprising firm of Brackman & Ker, whose business has been expanding with "leaps and bounds" during past half dozen years is to be congratulated upon the prosperity which has attended their efforts. There is no pessimism in their commercial creed, and with unlimited faith in Victoria they are now sowing to reap still greater returns from each successive harvest.

An immense assortment of Kensington Art Squares, all sizes, just received by John Weiler, 51 to 55 Fort street.

Wellington Coal.

The old reliable coal and wood yard, office 42, Yates street, is now prepared to supply the market with the best New Wellington Coal.

HEATHORN & McINTOSH.

Mail Subsidy.

The Pacific Coast Steamship Co., has been awarded the contract for carrying mails between the Sound and Alaska. For this the U. S. government has to pay them a subsidy of $18,000 a year. The contract commences January 1st, 1890, and is at an end June 30th, 1894.

Cassiar Election.

Returning Officer Fitzstubbs has sent in the official [illegible] tion to the Government, the returns from the interior polling divisions having arrived on the last steamer. The total vote was: Hall, 48; Cunningham, 32; majority for Hall, 16.

Of Interest to Small Smugglers.

Among the items of expenditure stricken out by the committee on the general deficiency bill in the conference of Washington was $12,000 for a steam launch for the Puget Sound customs district. No swift steam cutter will now be dreaded by guileless evader of the revenue.

Shorter Hours.

Commencing to-day, the public schools will not open until 9:30 in the morning, and will be dismissed at 3 instead of 3:30. Thus the school hours are made just one hour shorter, which of course makes a big difference to the students and teachers, all of whom no doubt greet the change with pleasure.

The First Eleven.

The eleven pupils of the third division of the Victoria high school, Miss A. D. Cameron teacher, who have gained the distinction of being first are:—Annie Dunkerley, Laura Livingston Nickerson, Lottie May Powell, Thomas Arthur Spencer, Gertrude Ure, Minnie Jane Munsie, Frederick Blackbourn, George Henry Haynes, Barbara Wilson Lenfesty, William James Turpel, Harry Gerald Ross.

Beautiful Women.

The magical efforts of Wisdom's Robertine as a beautifer and preserver of the complexion have been attested by thousands of leading ladies of society and the stage. It is the only article ever discovered which gives a natural and beautiful tint to the complexion, removing tan, sunburn, freckles and all roughness of the face and arms, leaving the skin soft, smooth and velvety. All remarks on its delightfuly cooling and refreshing properties, a distinction not found in any other similar article known. D. E. Campbell, agent.

Sovereign Grand Lodge.

Mr. W. McColl, of New Westminster, delegate from the I. O. O. F. Grand Lodge of British Columbia to the Sovereign Grand Lodge, which met this year in Topeka, Kan., has returned after three weeks absence. Dr. Campbell, of London, Ont., was appointed Supreme Grand Sire, this being the first time in the history of the order that the incumbent of that high office has been held by a Canadian. All the Provinces in the Dominion were represented and all the States of the Union, 117 representatives in all being present. In future British Columbia will send two delegates, the increase in the number of lodges with jurisdiction entitling them to two representatives.

Anderson-Percival.

Mr. R. A. Anderson, of Vancouver, and formerly a citizen of Victoria, where he is widely known, was married on the 24th of Sept. at Richmond Hill, Ont., to Miss Alice A. only daughter of Rev. W. W. Percival, who some three years ago was a popular Methodist clergyman in this city. The auspicious event took place in the Presbyterian church, at Richmond Hill, Ont., the bride's father, assisted by the Rev. Mr. Freeman, officiating. The groom was supported by Prof. Craig and Mr. Atwood Percival, and the bride was attended by Misses Fannie Fraser of Toronto, and Kate Wallace of Maple. Mr. and Mrs. Anderson left for a visit to New York and other eastern American cities, and will return to Vancouver in the course of a few days.

The Queen Pays All Expenses.

The Queen's last "Free Trip to Europe" having excited such universal interest, the publishers of that popular magazine offer another and $300 extra for expenses, to the person sending the largest list of English words constructed from letters contained in the words "British North America." Additional prizes, consisting of Silver Tea Sets, China Dinner Sets, Gold Watches, French Music Boxes, Portiere Curtains, Silk Dresses, Mantel Clocks, and many other useful and valuable articles will also be awarded in order of merit. A special prize of a Seal Skin Jacket to the lady, and a handsome Shetland Pony to the girl or boy (delivered free in Canada or United States), sending largest lists. Everyone sending a list of not less than twenty words will receive a present. Send four 3c. stamps for complete rules, illustrated catalogue of prizes, and sample number of the Queen.

Address, The Canadian Queen, Toronto, Canada. au29-dw2m

Will Get There.

A plan for giving Victoria, British Columbia, increased telegraphic facilities is now under consideration by the Western Union, Northern Pacific and Great Northwestern telegraph companies. The scheme is to run a cable from Port Crescent on the south side of the Straits of Juan de Fuca, to a point on Beecher Bay, on the north side, and connect there with an overland telegraph line to Victoria. It is thought permission will be readily granted by the Dominion Government for landing the cable, and the nature of the bottom of the straits at that point offers no obstruction to the early completion of the project. At Dungeness, the place where the present cable crosses, the shores and bottom of the straits are rocky and constantly interfere with the successful working of the line. At the proposed crossing from Port Crescent the bottom and approaches are sandy, offering the best possible protection to the cable after once being laid. The length of the line will be twenty-one miles, eleven of which will be cable. This line will be operated as a competitor of the Pacific Postal Telegraph Company, and will undoubtedly act as an incentive to it to increase its present facilities.

THE CRY OF MILLIONS

OH, MY BACK!

STOP IT NOW,

SOON IT WILL BE TOO LATE.

I have been troubled many years with disease of the kidneys and have tried many different remedies and have sought aid from different physicians without relief. About the 15th of April I was suffering from a very violent attack that almost prostrated me in such a manner that I was bent over. When I sat down it was almost impossible for me to get up alone, or to put on my clothes, when kind Providence sent Dr. Henley, with the DRIGON KIDNEY TEA, to my hotel. I immediately commenced using the tea. It had an almost miraculous effect, and to the astonishment of all who heard of my case, in a few days who happened to see me said that I was a new man. I will recommend the tea to all afflicted as I have been.

HENRY YOUNG & CO.

AUTUMN OPENING.
1890

We would call the special attention of purchasers to our Mantle and Dress Departments.
Which are now receiving a complete and attractive range of goods. The stock for value will be found unsurpassed in the City.

Seal Jackets and Mantles.
Having made arrangements in early Spring with a leading fur house, we are in a position to offer REAL ALASKA SEAL garments at last year's prices. We show sample, take purchaser's measure, and deliver in say thirty days, guaranteeing fit and quality. As Alaska furs have experienced a sharp advance in price, the advantage of the above arrangement is obvious.

Jackets, Ulsters, Coats and Dolmans.
We handle B. Caspee's goods, and are the only house in the Province that does so. For Style, Fit and Quality these goods are unrivalled. In nearly every instance we have only one of a kind. Prices right.

Waterproofs.
The Fife, the Teak, the Princess, the Russian, all in beautiful new designs. Also in Imperial cloth, very choice.

Furs.
Boas, Muffs, Idallas, in the following approved varieties: Seal, Bear, Blue and Grey Fox, Australian Opposum, Natural Coon, Isoline, etc. A very full assortment to select from. Also Children's Astrachan Muffs and sets.

Shawls, Etc.
Elderdown, Inverness, Reversible Velvet, Clan Tartans, Cashmere, Silk, Honeycomb, and Knit Shawls, Scarfs and Fascinators, Dressing Gowns, Jersey Jackets, etc.

Silks,

Black Surahs,	Colored Pongees,
Black Moire,	Colored Faille,
Black Gros Grain,	Colored Merveilux
Black Faille,	Colored Moire,
Black Merveilux,	Colored Broche,
Black Broche,	Colored Satins.

Velvets, Plushes, Etc.
Black and Colored Trimming Velvets, Mantle and Trimming Plushes, Checked and Fancy Trimming Velvets, Black Satin and Velvet Stripe, Sealettes, Velveteens.

Dress Goods.
This department is expected to be complete by the middle of the month. We show a large assortment in the leading lines. Special value in colored and black Henriettas.

Kid Gloves.
The Maltese X or Westside glove. A case just opened, every pair guaranteed.

Yarns.
Alloa, $1.00 per pound; Beehive, 20c. per hank; two, four and eight-ply Berlin, Andalusian and Saxony, 40c. per oz. All full weight.

PERSONAL.

Movements of Well Known People in Various Directions.

D. McPhee, of Port Townsend, came over last night.

A. W. Smith, M. P. P., of Lillooet is at the Driard.

[illegible] inspector, takes an official trip to Vancouver to-morrow.

Capt. Collister, hull surveyor, came down by last night's steamer from the mainland.

Senator Platt, who is on the commission to select a site on Puget Sound for a U. S. naval depot, is expected here next Friday.

John V. Ellis, M. P., editor of the St. John Globe, and his son Frank B. Ellis, having spent several days pleasantly on Vancouver Island, will leave for the East to-night.

Alex. Gillies, of Valleyfield, C. D. Rand, Vancouver; H. L. DeBeck, Westminster; W. L. Leonard, Vancouver, and F. H. Osgood, Seattle, are among the guests at the Driard.

J. Roberts, assistant engineer at the city electric light works, has returned from a two months' trip to England. Mr. Roberts left Liverpool on the 13th of September, and on the 29th he was in Tacoma. Pretty quick time.

F. Bourchier, the well-known real estate agent, returned to Victoria last evening after a visit to the principal cities of the Eastern States. He reports that a more favorable impression of Victoria is obtaining in financial circles there.

R. McKenzie Munro, who was over at Port Crescent at the firing of the big blast, has arrived back in Victoria. He came up from Port Crescent to Port Townsend on the steamer Garland, and when a mile or so from that city the boat went ashore in a fog. She got off later on all right.

For the South.

The steamer Queen, Capt. Wallace sailed for San Francisco at 11 o'clock this morning with the following passengers from this port: M. Green, H. Kempster, G. Kempster, A. Sykes and wife, F. Guertin, A. Yarothvich, C. W. Buiser, A. E. Stevens, R. Hamilton and wife, Mrs. P. A. Phillips, Miss L. Phillips, G. M. Clough, D. Hoilgett, O. W. Parker and wife, Mrs. Lee and Mrs. Humphreys.

The World Enriched.

The facilities of the present day for the production of everything that will conduce to the material welfare and comfort of mankind are almost unlimited and when Syrup of Figs was first produced the world was enriched with the only perfect laxative known, as it is the only remedy which is truly pleasing and refreshing to the taste and prompt and effectual to cleanse the system gently in the Spring time or, in fact, at any time and the better it is known the more popular it becomes.

Prof. Foster's Benefit.

On Saturday evening there will be a benefit given at the Victoria theatre to Prof. Robert Foster, the well known athlete and trainer. The entertainment will consist of boxing for points, clog and jig dancing, statue tableaux, lime light effects, vocal and instrumental music, etc. Professor Foster has many warm friends, and all will heartily assist in making the entertainment a success. A first class round of amusement, of a pure and pleasing kind will be assured. A full house should greet the performance.

Signs Given unto the People.

The authorities at the city hall are wise in their generation, and not like the Provincial Government people. A skilful sign painter has been engaged at the civic place of business, and signs are being placed on the doors of offices and along corridors so that the general public can know where to go when it wants any particular place or person there. If the Provincial authorities did likewise in the new law courts it would be well. But then it might not be dignified in the Provincial authorities to let the general public know anything. As a rule the Provincial Government keeps its work dark.

Where are the Dairymen?

Among the C.P.R. freight brought over by the steamer Yosemite last evening there were 469 boxes of cheese and 500 tubs of butter consigned to local merchants. This leads one to wonder what can the dairymen in the Province be doing. British Columbia has without a doubt some of the best grazing land in the whole Dominion, and where there is grass cattle are sure to thrive. Cows that are taken good care of in the Province always turn out good milkers. But in the face of these facts all the merchants have to import butter and cheese, that can hardly be expected to be as good as that which is not packed in wood and shipped thousands of miles.

Victoria's Exhibition.

The judges for the British Columbia Agricultural Society will commence their labors of awarding the prizes to-morrow, but the show will not be thrown open to the public until 2 o'clock on Friday, when Lieut.-Governor Nelson will open it. The grounds are now ready, and to-morrow morning exhibitors will commence filling up the spaces allotted to them. The steamer Rithet is due from Westminster to-night with a lot of live stock and produce and the noon train to-morrow will bring exhibits from along the line. The action of the Mayor in proclaiming a public holiday on Friday is endorsed by every one who has the interests of the farming and in fact the whole community at heart. The grounds will be lit up at night with electric light and hunting will not be spared to make things look attractive.

Large lines of new goods in furniture, carpets, glassware, etc., constantly arriving at John Weller, 51 to 55 Fort street.

You should secure a lot in Fernwood. Beautiful residential property. Enquire of the leading estate agents.

Ladies and Gentlemen.

Do not throw away your rubber boots, shoes, coats or gossamers, because they are torn or have a few holes worn in them. Remember they can be made as good as new by Geo. A. Shade, shoemaker, 87½ Wharf street. oct1-1m Going North.

The steamer Barbara Boscowitz Capt. Williams, will sail for the north this evening with a very heavy cargo of general merchandise and a large number of steerage passengers. The cabin passengers going up are Rev. Stevenson and wife, Ketkatla; W. F. Breiz, Rivers Inlet; W. Warren and wife, Skeena.

For the Exhibition.

A telegram was received this afternoon by Mr. Renouf, Secretary of the B. C. A. A., that the steamer R. P. Rithet had left Ladner's Landing at noon to-day with 16 head of stock and other exhibits on board. There was also to be taken on at Active Point in the river, 30 head more of live animals, all for the exhibition. A large number of passengers are also coming down.

Commenced To-day.

Commencing to-day cock pheasants will have to steer clear of hunters and their guns, for according to law these birds can be shot between October 1st and January 14th. Hunters must on the other side be careful that they do not make mistakes and shoot hen pheasants, for the gentler sex of that species of birds is protected by law.

The Sidewalk Guarded.

To-day the provincial government finished laying down the sidewalk in front of Fairall's brewery on the Esquimalt road, over which there has been so much trouble. Thinking that perhaps, the sidewalk may be torn up again, the government have placed a guard to see that it is not destroyed. Officers Hunter and Campbell hold the fort alternately.

Fire at Beacon Hill.

In reply to a telephone message from the park keeper yesterday afternoon a detachment of men from the fire department went out to Beacon Hill to extinguish a fire in the platform of the gun battery at Point Finlayson. The fire was found to have eaten down into the dry timber over a foot and a half, and a good deal of work was required to put it out as no water could be obtained. Picks and shovels were procured, and the burning platform covered up with earth, which put a stop to the flames.

Officer Hunter Caned.

Last evening, just before going on duty, Supt. Sheppard and Sergt. Walker and the members of the Victoria city police, gathered in the barrack-room and presented Officer J. Hunter, of the provincial police, and formerly of the city force, with a handsome gold-headed cane as a sign of the respect and good feeling that exists between him and the men with whom he formerly worked. The presentation was made by Supt. Sheppard who, in a few well-chosen words, spoke of the diligence of Officer Hunter during his short time on the force, and also of his willingness to oblige anyone with whom he came in contact.

Officer Hunter responded, and after a hearty shake of hands, the men went on duty well satisfied with the result of the way in which they showed their appreciation of a splendid officer and a gentleman wherever met. The cane is a heavy gold-headed one, and on the top is inscribed the following:

Presented to JAMES HUNTER,
by the members of the
Victoria City Police Force,
Sept. 30, 1890.

Naval Notes.

H. M. S. Warspite left this morning at 8 o'clock on a cruise for a few days.

H. M. S. Espiegle will likely leave tomorrow morning to join the flagship.

H. M. S. Daphne leaves on Sunday for a cruise to Comox.

H. M. S. Champion leaves on Monday next to take mails and dispatches to the flagship.

H. M. S. Nymphe leaves on the 7th of this month for Honolulu, to relieve the Acorn. She will remain there for the winter.

The ships of the fleet were exercised at night quarters last night at 10:30 and were drilled with the electric search lights.

The cruiser Melpomene, 2950 tons, arrived at Montevideo on the 4th Sept., and would sail for the Pacific station on the 13th September. The Melpomene is a new vessel.

The appointment of Lieutent John J. Graham to the Warspite, as flag-lieutenant to Rear-Admiral Hotham, Commander-in Chief Pacific station, is announced in the naval news of the English papers.

It has been officially notified that the Garnet is to be recommissioned at Malta by the crew which goes out in the Tyne on the 22nd September, instead of at Bombay or Aden as was the original plan. The Garnet after having been recommissioned will be added to the Pacific squadron.
